POPE SHOWS NO INTEREST IN AL MUNDELEIN SAYS

"Church Has No Ax to Grind in U. S."

ROME, March 18.—(U.P.)—The campaign of Gov. Al Smith of New York for the presidency of the United States has not interested the Vatican, Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago said tonight in the first interview he has accorded to American newspaper correspondents since his arrival here.

"During the whole week's stay in Rome the subject was not broached to me or by me in either of my two audiences with the pope or any of my other talks with highly placed prelates," said the Chicago cardinal.

Cardinal Mundelein explained that the American presidential campaign is "too far away and the issues are too involved."

"No Ax to Grind in U. S."

"Anyway, they know that if a Catholic were elected president it would not change things one particle," he said.

The Catholic church in America contends with no oppressive legislation, has no political ax to grind and lives and thrives under the existing form of government. Therefore there is no reason whatever for it to take a partisan stand.

The American prelate also said that the Vatican situation was not brought up by the pope or any others with whom he has had audiences here.

"I think that condition must be cleared up before long," he said. "All Americans have an interest in it aside from any question of investments. At my time, I have great faith in American. I think he will give us a better future in Mexico than any thing else there."

POPE BLESSES CHICAGO

BY DAVID DARRAN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

ROME, March 18.—(U.P.)—The pope blessed the city of Chicago in a farewell message tonight, saying that the city was a "very good" one and that the pope was "very glad" to have it.

Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, who is in Rome on a farewell visit, said tonight that the pope's blessing of the city was a "very good" one and that the pope was "very glad" to have it.

PEASANTS MOB BUCHAREST TO OUST BRATIANU

Demand Maniu Be Made Premier.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BUCHAREST, Roumania, March 18.—Sixty thousand peasants from all parts of the country, under the leadership of Iuliu Maniu, today decided to refuse to leave the capital until the Bratianu government resigns. The government has withdrawn all the police and troops from the center of the city, fearing a clash with the peasants, which might precipitate a revolution.

M. Maniu will be received tomorrow by the regency, also by Queen Marie in private audience. The regency is demanding that M. Maniu promise not to touch the question of the dynasty before turning over the government. M. Maniu, however, already has promised to reopen the dynastic question, but as he is believed to be in favor of the present king, he now is asked to induce his party to ratify the present dynasty.

Peasants Parade.

A gigantic parade of peasants wearing national colors marched past M. Maniu in Victoria plaza, where an anti-government demonstration was held.

This peasant congress is one of several called by the national peasant party to protest against the government's policy of the failure of the government to obtain a loan and the blow to Roumanian prestige in the recent controversy with Hungary at Geneva is believed sufficient to force Vintila Bratianu from the power.

Open Air Meetings.

BUCHAREST, Roumania, March 18.—(U.P.)—A futile attempt to force Vintila Bratianu to resign and to compel the installation of Iuliu Maniu as premier was made by the National Peasant party today. Open air mass meetings in various sections of the country and five separate demonstrations in Bucharest were staged, but the government ignored the clamor.

Administration circles declared the demonstrations were the last despairing attempt of the opposition, and they added that the regency will refuse to yield to "street intimidation."

At each gathering a resolution was adopted by acclamation demanding the resignation of Bratianu, fresh elections, and the appointment of Maniu, leader of the National Peasant party, as premier.

FOES OF CAROL.

For months the coalition of nationalists and peasants under the leadership of Iuliu Maniu has been trying to force a change in the Roumanian cabinet and dissolution of the present parliament. Premier Bratianu is president of the Liberal party and brother of the late J. J. C. Bratianu, who was the strong man of the last years of King Ferdinand's reign. The Bratianu brothers were arch foes of Prince Carol, and were generally credited with forcing his renunciation of the throne and the proclamation of Carol's infant son, Michael, as king.

Offer Is Spurned.

Attempts by the present premier to pacify the National Peasant party and form a coalition cabinet were made last autumn. On Nov. 30 he offered Maniu at least six portfolios for representation of the Peasants' party, a neutral head for the coalition cabinet, and new elections after a fixed period of government by such a cabinet.

The offers were conditioned, however, upon collaboration between the present government and the Peasant party, and also upon a proposal that the proportion of seats in the new parliament would be fixed before the elections, so that all parties would be represented in proportion to their strength.

Maniu, however, rejected this plan, and in an open speech in parliament said that his party had no confidence in the present government.

Lake Forest Mayor Fights Prairie Fire for Two Hours

Mayor Farwell Winston and Thorne Donnelly, wealthy residents of Lake Forest, devoted two hours of their Sunday time yesterday in fighting a prairie fire on the estate of Earle Reynolds, banker, on North Green Bay road, Lake Forest. They were driving past when they saw that the blaze was endangering outbuildings belonging to Mr. Reynolds. Setting shovels, and aided by other residents of the vicinity, they fought the blaze until the fire was extinguished.

TRAPPED

PARIS TO CARD Dancing Men as Laborers

BY JAY ALLEN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, March 18.—Henceforth Parisian dancing men, who earn their living making themselves agreeable to school teachers for pro-British talent.

Like any laborer, manual or otherwise, of foreign birth, the gigo, as known in the capital's hotels and night clubs, will have to carry a special card from the ministry of labor authorizing him to practice his peculiar trade. This is the result of the regulations put into effect today by Jean Chiappe, prefect of police, who says he is cleaning up Paris.

Careless with Women's Gens.

The gigo, who is a product of the war and early after the war period, would never have obtained his dignity—it is on the books—of laborer if he had not been so persistently careless with the jewels of his women friends. With wits to match his nimble feet he has been running wild with both the affections and property of lonesome women, many of them American.

Like as not—in eight cases out of nine, say the police—he is an Argentine, Italian, Spaniard, or some other sort of the tango born, and probably was a butcher boy, valet de chambre, or simple burglar before he came to the big city and learned to capitalize his charms.

Closes 22 of Worst Dens.

M. Chiappe says he has the town practically cleaned up according to his ideal, which is to keep peace and public health, and give Paris back "that innocent smile of welcome to suit all tastes."

The prefect says he has closed twenty-eight of the worst dens and discovered in the process that the clientele of most of these ill-famed establishments was 75 per cent foreign.

The American tourist is forced to wonder, though, at just what this famous cleanup is directed, since he finds that most of the world renowned establishments still are open and prospering.

3 KILLED WHEN PLANE CRUMPLES, FALLS 2,300 FEET

Wilmington, Cal., March 18.—(U.P.)—Three civilian aviators were killed and two children were injured here today when the wing of an airplane collapsed and sent the machine hurtling 2,300 feet to the ground, crashing in the front yard of a home where a half dozen children were at play.

The children ran for safety as the plane came down towards them. The plane had taken off from the Burdett airport, Los Angeles, about half an hour before it crashed. As it reached a point near the center of the city the right wing of the machine was seen to give way and the plane went into a nose dive.

HISTORIAN O. K'D BY THOMPSON CALLS IT UNFAIR

MADISON, Wis., March 18.—(Special.)—Hard luck is camping on the trail of Prof. Carl Russell Fish, noted historian of the University of Wisconsin, and he desires that the United States and Chicago be apprised of it.

The misfortune of being confined to a hospital bed after an operation has been overshadowed, in his estimation, by the latest action of the commission appointed by Mayor William Thompson of Chicago to investigate school textbooks for pro-British taint.

The fact that the commission has selected Prof. Fish's "History of America" as the only text meeting its approval is considered by the author as "a regrettable honor."

"Both my publisher and I regard it as a most unfortunate indorsement of the school boards have learned that the Chicago propagandists have clothed my book with their own kind of virtue," he declared. "What could be more unfair, stunting its sale in this manner?"

In the opinion of Prof. Fish, only two foreign soldiers made contributions to the American cause sufficient to merit historic notation. These were Von Steuben and La Fayette, he said.

3 Die from X-Ray Films Fumes After Hospital Fire

ALBANY, N. Y., March 18.—(U.P.)—Fire which drove thirty-one patients from Memorial hospital last night was believed indirectly responsible for the deaths of three persons here today. Fumes from smoldering films in the X-ray room of the hospital caused or hastened, according to their physicians, the deaths of Mrs. Margaret Selley, Mrs. Elvina Gartner Rensselaer, and Mrs. Cora B. McCarg.

The car in which the trio were riding was struck by another driven by William Vanderveer, 30 years old, 8111 11th street, and Stewart avenue. They were killed.

Three persons were perhaps fatally injured in another collision at 115th street and Stewart avenue. They are John Coopman, 60 years old, 11420 Eggleston avenue; his wife, Mrs. Jesse Coopman, 64 years old, and George Wood, 19 years old, 11315 Stephenson avenue.

The car in which the trio were riding was struck by another driven by William Vanderveer, 30 years old, 8111 11th street, and Stewart avenue. They were killed.

Toll Raised to 15¢.

Eugene Koll, 30 years old, 1332 Fairmont avenue, was killed when the automobile in which he was riding was overturned in Gary. His wife, who was with him, escaped injury.

Paul Goetz, 27 years old, 3227 North Sacramento avenue, died at the Montrose hospital of injuries suffered in an automobile accident early yesterday. This death raised the Cook county motor toll since Jan. 1 to 15¢.

Young Realty Wizard Seized as Embezzler

Sol N. Bloch, youthful real estate operator, who built up a fortune of a million dollars a few years ago and then, according to report, saw it melt away, was arrested last night on charges of embezzlement and obtaining money under false pretenses.

Bloch, who has been living recently at the Copeland hotel, 5004 Sheridan road, was entering St. Luke's hospital to visit his 12 year old daughter, a patient there, when Constable F. W. Laatz of River Forest notified him he was under arrest.

Contractor Is Plaintiff.

With a sigh of resignation Bloch, for whom hard luck has been piled almost mountain high in the last year, signified his willingness to accompany the constable. He was released a short time later on bonds of $25,000, supplied by his father, Harry Bloch.

The complainant in the case is J. E. Smith, a plastering contractor, 136 17th avenue, Maywood. His warrants set $9,000 as the amount involved in the embezzlement charge and $1,800 in the other.

Four or five years ago Bloch was given a neat egg of $50,000, it is said and was told by relatives to see what he could do with it. He accepted the challenge and began the financing and building of hundreds of bungalows and other types of homes in the western suburbs.

Known as "Boy Wonder"

For a time his schemes prospered so well that he was known among his friends in Maywood, where he lived, as the "boy wonder." At $4 he had erected, with his $50,000 and the money he raised to go with it, acres and acres of homes which were to be sold on long time payments.

Many were sold. Many others were not, because there was a tightening up of the real estate market. Bloch had formed a concern known as the State Discount company to deal in second mortgages, and there were a large number of investors in this. For a time he was able to carry on, but as more and more of his houses remained unsold, even on paper, the stockholders in the mortgage concern grew restive.

Bankers Are Called In.

Bankers were called in to straighten things out. Some of the stockholders added to their investments and took over individual houses. Others, unable to do so, are still wondering what can be done for them.

One day last summer Bloch was found unconscious in his home. Gas jets near him were open. He was revived and taken to a sanitarium in Milwaukee. His relatives said he had been accidentally overcome when a kettle boiled over and extinguished the gas flame.

While he was in the sanitarium his wife, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Philip Gartner, started to visit him. On the way Gartner, who was driving the car in which they rode, suddenly threw on the brakes in an emergency. Mrs. Bloch struck the door of the machine, it swung open, and she fell out, fracturing her skull. She died a short time later in a hospital at Kenosha.

Comes Back to Chicago.

When Bloch recovered from his breakdown he came back to Chicago. His home recently has been with his father. But his discount business has been closed and he apparently has not been in close touch with the properties he built up since last summer.

Smith, the complainant, announced to police he was not anxious to see Bloch sent to prison because of his brother-in-law. He would be willing to drop prosecution, he added, if he could get the money that is owed him for building work. It was indicated that the alleged embezzlement was of a technical nature.

SPRING DANCES IN TOMORROW, ONE DAY EARLY

Spring officially will be ushered in tomorrow at 2:45 p. m., a day earlier than usual because of the extra twenty-four hours added to February in leap year.

The weather bureau forecast conditions more in keeping with the season than those which have prevailed for the last two weeks. Today is expected to be fair with little change in temperature, but tomorrow the mercury, according to prediction, will rise.

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., March 18.—(U.P.)—Art Acord, motion picture cowboy, probably was fatally injured in a mysterious explosion which partly wrecked his home here tonight, police reported.

BANKER SHOTS SELF AT HOME; BLAME ILLNESS

While Mrs. Harriet Mikitynski Smulski, his wife, was preparing his breakfast Mr. Smulski entered a bathroom of his suite on the sixteenth floor of the Seneca hotel and shot himself.

Mrs. Smulski did not hear the report of the .22 caliber revolver. She discovered the tragedy when she went to urge her husband to hurry with his dressing so that they might finish the morning meal in time to attend church.

Death Mourned by G. O. P. Leaders.

John Francis Smulski, millionaire banker, former state and city office holder, and a national figure in Polish-American affairs, ended his life yesterday.

While Mrs. Harriet Mikitynski Smulski, his wife, was preparing his breakfast Mr. Smulski entered a bathroom of his suite on the sixteenth floor of the Seneca hotel and shot himself.

Mrs. Smulski did not hear the report of the .22 caliber revolver. She discovered the tragedy when she went to urge her husband to hurry with his dressing so that they might finish the morning meal in time to attend church.

Wife Summons Assistance.

The bathroom door was bolted and there was no response to Mrs. Smulski's knock. Alarmed, she summoned the chauffeur, who forced open the door. Mr. Smulski, clad in pajamas, was found dead with a bullet wound in his head.

In a written statement Coroner Oscar Wolf gave it as his opinion that Mr. Smulski had taken his life in temporary insanity induced by despondency over ill health. This motive was advanced by relatives and business associates.

It was recalled that the banker had undergone three operations in the last year for sigmoiditis, an inflamed and obstructed condition of the intestines. The last operation was performed on Jan. 21 by Dr. L. L. McArthur in St. Luke's hospital. A week ago, it was reported to the coroner, Mr. Smulski had strained the operation wound in opening a window.

Associates Tell of Illness.

Fred G. Heuchling and Edward J. Prebis, vice presidents of the Northwestern Trust and Savings bank, of which Mr. Smulski was president, said the banker had often complained of his condition and expressed the fear that he was suffering from cancer. Mr. Prebis is a brother-in-law of Mr. Smulski.

brought to Illinois by his father, William Smulski. After completing his education at the Northwestern university law school he was engaged in publishing a Polish-American newspaper. He entered politics in 1918, when he was elected alderman from the 10th ward. From then until 1925, when he retired from public life to devote his entire attention to his banking interests, Mr. Smulski served as city attorney for two terms, state treasurer, and president of the west park board as an appointee of Gov. Deneen.

Becomes Bank President.
In 1926 he founded and became president of the Northwestern Trust and Savings bank, which became one of the leading banking institutions outside the loop. He was also a director of the Second Northwestern State bank, Pullerton State bank, Marshall Square State bank, Inland Trust and Savings bank, Keystone Trust and Savings bank, and the Brighton Park State bank.

In recognition of his services as chairman of the National Polish committee during the war he was given the cross of a chevalier of the Legion of Honor by the French consul of Chicago. After the war he made a number of trips to Poland as an unofficial financial adviser. He also negotiated war loans from the United States to stabilize Poland's currency.

Weds Singer in 1929.
In 1929 Mr. Smulski married Miss Mikitynski, a singer. Two children were born, but both died in infancy. When a family of the 16th ward in which Mrs. Smulski was interested became destitute after the birth of twins, the two children were taken into the banker's home and baptized by the Rev. Casimir Sturko as Harriet and John F. Smulski Jr. The twins are 16 years olds and are students at Miss Harris' school.

Funeral arrangements were completed by a group of relatives and banking associates who met in the Illinois Athletic club. The body will lie in state at the home of a nephew, Frank E. Lachowski, 2954 Logan boulevard, and the services will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in Holy Trinity church, 1118 Noble street. Burial will be in St. Adalbert cemetery, Niles.

The active pall bearers will be George R. Benson, William H. Schmidt, Cedric E. Pauntheroy, Julius F. Smietanka, August J. Kowalski, and Joseph Korzeniewski.

An inquest is to be held this morning at 10 o'clock in the Kowachek undertaking establishment, 3630 George street.

300 Uninstructed Delegates to Control G. O. P. Convention

Washington, D. C., March 18.—(Special.)—Approximately 300 uninstructed delegates to the Republican national convention will be the controlling factor in the nomination of the presidential candidate.

This is apparent from the claims emanating from the different camps. Supporters of Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover now declare that he is assured of more than 400 votes at the start of the convention. Frank O. Lowden's friends concede that Hoover will have at least 350 votes. They claim 250 for Lowden.

About 140 votes will be divided among Senators Willis [Ohio], Watson [Ind.], Curtis [Kas.], and Norris [Nebr.], the principal favorite sons.

Hold Balance of Power.
On the basis of 400 for Hoover, 250 for Lowden, and 140 for favorite sons, or a total of 790, there remain 299 delegates unaccounted for. This remaining group, composed of uninstructed delegates from New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, and other states, will hold the balance of power. With a total of 1,089 delegates, 545 will form a majority. The 300 uninstructed delegates can nominate Hoover or Lowden or keep both of them from winning.

One tabulation of present Hoover strength shows a total of 414 votes for him. Another credits him with 401 votes, but this does not include any from New York. The 414 total includes 30 of the 90 New York delegates. The Hoover claim of 401 votes includes chiefly states in New England, the south, and the far west.

Some Claims for Hoover.
In New England the Hoover managers are claiming 15 votes from Maine, 22 out of the 39 from Massachusetts, 11 from New Hampshire, and 13 from Rhode Island. The only

SUICIDE ATTEMPT IS FUTILE; VOWS SHE'LL TRY AGAIN

Miss Gladys Duff, 26 years old, who came to Chicago from Cincinnati last Thursday, was recovering in the county hospital yesterday from an attempt at suicide in her room in the Congress hotel.

Capt. Joseph Barg of the National Guard at Cincinnati telephoned police here that he would come to Chicago today for the girl. She denied at first that she knew Capt. Barg, then admitted an acquaintance with him.

"It wasn't a love affair that made me do it," she declared. "It was trouble with a man and a lot of other troubles. I ran away from Cincinnati Thursday noon. I sent back a ring to a certain person and just fled. I came to Chicago merely because the first train took me here."

Miss Duff said she had been married once, her parents were dead and that she had made a living selling automobiles.

"I'm sorry I didn't die, and as soon as I get out I'm going to try again to kill myself," she asserted. "Life isn't worth living."

Court to Hear Experts on Dickinson Will Today

The signature to the $100,000 will of Mrs. Mary Alice Dickinson will again be the subject of argument in Probate Judge Henry Horner's court today. Handwriting experts will be called to the witness stand to prove that the signature is a forgery. Attorney Andrew R. Sherriff, representing four pieces contesting the will, announced. Mrs. Dickinson died Jan. 4, and a coroner's jury found that she had succumbed to luminal poisoning, but failed to determine who administered it.

PESKA FIRES BACK AT MISS BINFORD IN DANCING WAR

Says Ballrooms Control Protective Association.

Hostilities between the city administration and the Juvenile Protective Association, based on a dispute over the moral standards of the city's dance halls, flared into open warfare yesterday. In retaliation for the published report of the association, which states conditions allegedly traceable to the city government, City Prosecutor Frank Peska launched an attack on the organization.

The assertions, set forth in a formal statement, ascribe the motives of the Juvenile Protective Association to a "motive" held on that organization by the National Association of Ballroom Proprietors and Managers. He also states that Miss Jessie Binford, superintendent of the J. P. A., is in control of the association of managers.

Charges Unfair Protection. "The city prosecutor's office," he states, "has always taken issue with the Juvenile Protective Association as the character of certain dance halls which this association, organized to protect juveniles, has protected and given a clean bill of moral standing."

"We have been greatly hampered in our work of cleaning out undesirable halls because of opposition from the National Association of Ball Room Proprietors and Managers, of which Miss Binford is in control. This organization has its headquarters at 318 South Halsted street, which is also the address of the Juvenile Protective Association, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cran-nell of the commercialized recreations committee of the J. P. A. is also secretary of the Ball Room association and negotiates practically all of its business."

"It is because of this 'motive' which the dance hall owners hold on the Juvenile Protective Association that we find certain places are protected by the association and called the best, whereas a bitter campaign is waged against those who are not members."

Assault Subsidized. "One of the places which started a controversy with Miss Binford is a 'taxi' dance hall on the near north side. An investigation, after a mother wrote a pathetic letter, disclosed that hardened women mingled with young girls, notwithstanding the fact that the J. P. A. had present in this hall one of its matrons whose salary is paid by the dance hall proprietor."

"I believe that no social service organization can effectively combat any dance hall evil when it is subsidized by an organization of dance hall proprietors and managers."

"I have been reliably informed that the dance hall owners and managers who belong to the association are compelled to pay large assessments into the coffers of the organization, of which the chief workers of the J. P. A. are in control."

An indignant and emphatic denial was made to these charges by Miss Binford, who commented in addition, that the city prosecutor's motives were entirely clear to her.

Given Car for Work. "To the best of my knowledge," she declared, "the only contribution in any form that the Ballroom association has made in return for extensive and

HONORED

HELEN HEFFERAN.

News that Miss Helen Hefferan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Hefferan of 6831 Harvard avenue, had been chosen as one of the five leaders of the senior class at Wellesley college, was received by her friends last night. Miss Hefferan will be graduated in June and then will return to Chicago. Her mother is a member of the board of education and leader in civic affairs.

Intensive work by the J. P. A. is a cheap car which they bought and maintained for a time, and which was used by our workers in making investigations for the ballroom men, who have cooperated splendidly with us.

"Now even that has been discontinued. When Mr. Peska called a meeting in December at his office, supposedly to begin a campaign against ballrooms, he kept the crowd waiting, and when pinned down and made to produce any evidence he might have the only thing he could show us was this one letter. I have copies in my files to refute his charge that I did not submit the report I promised at that time on certain dance halls."

JUDGE MCCARTHY HOME IS GUARDED AGAINST BOMBERS

Threats to bomb the home of Municipal Judge Joseph L. McCarthy resulted in the establishment of a police guard at his residence, 1243 Winneamac avenue, it was revealed yesterday.

Judge McCarthy, a Thompson supporter, is a candidate for committee man from the 48th ward.

"The threats were received by my wife over the telephone," Judge McCarthy said when he reached the regular Republican headquarters, 1124 Wilson avenue. "They were extremely vague as to purpose."

"It may be that I incurred the enmity of some person unfriendly to my rulings in the morals court. I can't say whether they were inspired by my candidacy for ward committeeman. They might have been. I have decided to disregard the warning and asked that the police guard be withdrawn."

SLAIN BANDIT IDENTIFIED AS MAIL ROBBER

Gun Battle Victim Sought in $133,000 Holdup.

All except one of the seven men who staged the $133,000 Evergreen Park mail robbery several weeks ago stood revealed last night as police and postal inspectors identified Louis (Scarface) Padersonik, killed by policemen in an early morning gun battle, as one of the two men still sought for the crime.

Padersonik was killed by Sergt. Earl Leonard and Walter Franks of the Warren avenue station as he and a partner were firing into a restaurant at 2844 West Lake street. The man with Padersonik was seriously wounded and was identified as James Gillsiepe, also well known to the police.

Identified as Bandit. Lieut. William Shoemaker of the detective bureau made the identification of Padersonik last evening. "Well," he said, "he's gone where he will never fix another case."

The dead bandit and his partner were thought at first to have been trying to hold up C. H. Johnson, colored owner of the restaurant where the shooting took place. It was revealed last night, however, that they simply had got into an argument with Johnson and started shooting after shouting, "You can't argue with us; we're holdup men!"

Three Not in Custody. With Padersonik dead, only one unnamed member of the Evergreen Park mail robbery gang remains and all but two of those under indictment are in the custody of the government. William Jackson and Virgil Litzinger are the two men still at large. "Limpy Charley" Claver, alleged leader of the gang; William Donovan and Frank (Bozo) Meccia are the men in custody.

Padersonik's identity as one of the mail robber gang had been kept secret by the government agents, they said, because they feared he would flee the country if it became public.

NYE HUNTS MORE FACTS IN NEW TEAPOT SCANDAL

Baltimore, Md., March 18. (AP)—Senator Gerald P. Nye (Rep., N. D.) made an address today before the Baltimore forum, after he had returned here from Chicago, where he and Senator Norbeck had been acting as a subcommittee investigating the Teapot Dome oil scandal.

Reaffirming a statement made yesterday in Chicago regarding sensational developments in the disposition of Continental Trading company shares which have found their way into the hands of prominent Republicans, Senator Nye continued:

"If reports given to our committee are true, a name is involved that would be criminal to mention until further investigation of the basis of the charges is made."

WIFE VISITS JOE IN CELL; SNUBS WOMAN FRIEND

Mrs. Indian Joe Huesar, wife of the former chief of police of Broadview, who made life miserable for transient motorists, called upon her husband yesterday at his cell in the Kane county jail, but snubbed the woman arrested with Joe last Thursday.

The woman, Mrs. Martha Schenk, 35, of Melrose Park, has been unable to pay a fine of $100 for disorderly conduct. Joe was bound over to the grand jury under $5,000 bonds for driving while intoxicated. He has been unable to supply bond.

Chief of Police Reuben Anderson of Geneva said he was unable to learn if Joe was forgiven by his wife, but asserted that she brought along an attorney who stated that Joe's bond will be raised today. Until his arrest Joe was at liberty while an appeal in being made to the Illinois Supreme court on a sentence of one to four years for assaulting two motorists.

DECISION AFFECTS REVOCATION OF DOCTOR LICENSES

A ruling which may affect all the revocations of physicians' licenses in the last five years by the department of registration and education, was handed down Saturday by the Illinois Supreme court at Springfield, according to word received here yesterday.

Attorney Robert E. Cantwell Jr., received a copy of the decision ruling that a permanent injunction should be granted to his client, Dr. Blaine L. Ramsay, restraining the state department from holding hearings to revoke Dr. Ramsay's license.

Charges of unethical conduct against Dr. Ramsay in 1923 created a minor sensation, and resulted in several suits. The professional committee of the department of registration and education, consisting of five physicians, began to hear the charges against Dr. Ramsay when he obtained a temporary injunction stopping the hearing. A permanent injunction was refused, however.

The new decision holds that the members of the committee were disqualified for membership because of their connections with various hospitals.

BANDITS HOLD UP THEATER AS 1,000 WATCH PICTURE

While an audience of 1,000 was watching a movie, four armed men last night drove up to the Annetta theater at 2287-29 South 53d avenue, Cicero, took $500 from B. Bartelstein, who was in the ticket cage, and at the same time forced five passersby into the lobby to stand with their faces to the wall until the holdup was accomplished.

The robbery was carried on so quickly and quietly that not one of the audience knew it was in progress. Two of the men confronted the owner in the ticket booth, a third walked around, reached in and seized the money, while the fourth herded those who passed into the lobby as they appeared.

The bandits escaped in an automobile they had stolen only an hour before from George Disqua of 2210 Leavelle avenue, who had left it standing in front of a church across the street from the theater while he attended services.

RUTH M'CORMICK CAMPAIGNS WITH A MAN'S ENERGY

Years of Training Behind Her Race for Congress.

GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK

For thirty years she has been studying her profession; now she'd like to practice it.

And that is why Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, daughter of the late Senator Mark Hanna and widow of Senator McCall McCormick, is now seeking Republican nomination as congresswoman at large from Illinois at the April 10 primaries.

"The presence of so few women in politics is due," Mrs. McCormick suggests, "not so much to man's great reluctance to admit them as it is to woman's great indifference to being there."

"Too many women mouth the phrase, 'going into politics,' as if it were either dangerous or corrupt. Yet women cannot separate politics from daily life and expect to advance that way."

Previews on Feminine Bloc.

Mrs. McCormick, hopeful that her candidacy will be an incentive to feminine participation in the specific affairs of government, is running as a woman; but she is not running, and she makes this plain, as a woman's candidate. She regards the feminine bloc system as very unfortunate.

"Frequently," Mrs. McCormick warns, "a woman's organization is so made for the purpose of one particular cause that it uses that cause as the only yardstick by which to measure a candidate."

"Six or seven such groups, each carrying its own isolated yardstick, can combine and obtain the election of a candidate who will fit these specific measurements, regardless of all other qualitative dimensions. A candidate, by making these definite pledges, can thus be elected. But this is a distorted pattern of government. This is a distorted way of choosing public servants."

For a Balanced Vision.

"Let us view issues from a personal standpoint; then review them from a national standpoint. The result is likely to be a balanced vision."

As a corollary to this theory of government, Mrs. McCormick has declared against the making of specific pledges to specific groups in advance of her election to congress.

"I would make the pledge in the spring of 1928 and I would not take my oath of office until December, 1928," she says. "The whole status of the bill I had promised to sponsor might be changed in the interim. I will not sign on the dotted line for any particular cause or bill, but I shall always declare on a principle."

Opposed to the feminine bloc, but disposed to feminine activity in government, Mrs. McCormick is now campaigning like a man, if that means making half a dozen different speeches in a day, every day, in half a dozen different places, and traveling into every county of the state.

"Time Enough to Rest Later."

Just the other day a reception committee blocked off two free hours in a busy afternoon, and explained to its candidates that they had salvaged that time so that she might rest.

"Rest," said Mrs. McCormick, "there'll be plenty of time to rest between the day I am elected and the day I take office. Let me go and talk to some of your voters."

And she went down the street to a luncheon shop, there to talk politics with an old timer who had heard her father back in President McKinley's 1896 campaign.

A few days ago a man chairman, with a somewhat oblique sense of civility, introduced her as the "oldest living woman politician." She didn't cry or fret. She laughed and told the crowd of her first speech, made in that 1896 campaign.

She, a youngster in high school, accompanied her father as he stumped the country for McKinley. One afternoon—it was in a small village in one

REBELS BEATEN AT AMERICAN RANCH IN MEXICO

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

MEXICO CITY, March 18.—The manager and farm hands at the American owned San Bartolo hacienda, in the state of Vera Cruz, yesterday beat off for the second time a party of revolutionaries who tried to sack the place. Only one ranchman was lost. Several revolutionaries were killed and others were wounded.

So alarmed were the authorities of Tuxtutepec, a mile away, that they did not dare send local troops or the police to the aid of the San Bartolo ranchers.

Reports from this section of Vera Cruz state that the revolutionaries again have become generally active there. Federal troops from Cordoba and Vera Cruz were sent to Tuxtutepec and San Bartolo today.

CARLSTROM RIFT WITH THOMPSON BRINGS OPEN WAR

Clash on America First Issue at Polls.

The rift between Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom and Mayor William Hale Thompson developed into war yesterday as the mayor's slogan of "America First" was ridiculed in a statement issued by Phil Collins, chairman of Carlstrom's ex-service men's committee.

Thompson and Carlstrom were former friends, but their parting of the ways came when Thompson decided to support Gov. Small for re-election and Carlstrom joined with Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson. It is only just recently, it was learned, that any bitterness developed between them.

Looks Into Conditions Here. The attorney general, as the chief law officer of the state, has been making a quiet inquiry into conditions in Chicago, the mayor's friends learned. What his intentions are the attorney general would not say, but it was pointed out he has the power and authority to supersede the state's attorney, cause indictments and do the prosecuting.

The first hint was contained in a statement attributed to Carlstrom, which contained a warning of a special grand jury if any political frauds are attempted in the coming primary.

And then, on Friday night, Carlstrom's ex-service campaigners were prevented from holding a series of boxing bouts at the 131st Regiment armory. They accused Thompson and Small of doing that for political reasons. Adjt. Gen. Carlos E. Black, who gave the order, denied there was any politics in it.

Collins, who has been active in American Legion affairs, referred to Gen. Black as a "tin soldier" and lackey for Gov. Small.

Gen. Black's denial smells as fishy as does everything else connected with the state administration," Collins' statement declared. "Here are the facts:

"We leased the Armory for the specific purpose, stated in writing in the contract, of holding a wrestling and boxing show. We paid $50 as a deposit and were to pay $250 more on the night of the show. We advertised the show and sent invitations to all ex-service men in the city.

"The show was free. It was legal. More than $500 of our buddies were present. We tendered the $250 but it was rejected.

"Black stopped the show and this we rightfully termed a cheap political trick and we put the blame on Small and Thompson, who about 'America First,' which we know to be a slogan of political hot air when desecrated for campaign purposes by men of the type of Len Small.

"Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom was in the Spanish American war for his country in the disease-infested regions of Cuba.

"Where was Gov. Small then?"

"On the state payroll in a comfortable job."

"Where was Thompson then?"

"Playing football."

"Attorney General Carlstrom was a captain of infantry in France during the world war. Where was Small then? Loaning the people's money out at high interest. Where was Thompson then? Safe in the city hall, surrounded by experts."

"In 1928 Carlstrom is again fighting for his government. He has toured the state campaigning against Small and in favor of honesty in government. And when Carlstrom's comrades wanted to hold a rally for him, Small, Thompson and Black said 'No.' Thompson was able to hold similar rallies in that armory a year ago, but Small is with Thompson.

"The state still has our $250. It could have had our $250."

"Let Black explain. The answer probably is 'America First.'"

EDWIN A. OLSON SAYS SWANSON IS MAN FOR JOB

Edwin A. Olson, former United States District attorney, spoke at an "anti-Crowe-Thompson and Small" meeting last night at the Haven school in Evanston on the kind of man that should be state's attorney. Robert E. Crowe is not the right kind, he said, but John J. Healy, former state's attorney was.

"John J. Healy sent criminals to the gallows or the penitentiary," he said. "He built no political machine. No assistant state's attorneys were murdered while consorting with known gunmen. Election crooks did not steal ballot boxes or drive honest citizens from the polls. The 'pinapple industry' was unknown. Crooked office holders were not singing 'America First' to distract attention."

"That's the kind of a state's attorney we need today and no Crowe and no Lindsay will fill the bill. There is only one way to change present conditions and that is to nominate and elect Judge John A. Swanson."

McDONALD NOTE MAY SNATCH GIRL FROM GALLOWS

Seek New Trial for Doris on His Statement.

MONTREAL, March 18.—George C. McDonald, who was sentenced to hang for the murder of his wife, Doris, in the Fulton Street jail, today made a statement which might lead to a new trial for the woman, who is now in the custody of the police in the city of Montreal.

McDonald made his statement in the presence of Napoleon Seguin, governor of the province, Daniel Lorrain, chief of police of Quebec province, and his attorneys, Wolfgang Cribari and J. A. Legault.

"I am ready to die," McDonald said in unhesitating tones as the four men crowded into his narrow cell, "and I want to tell the truth."

On the Confession Stand.

He was given pencil and paper and a steady, sure-handed stroke.

"To Whom It May Concern: This is to certify that my wife, Doris McDonald, now in jail in Montreal, province of Quebec, is innocent of the murder of A. Bouchard. I swear to this by my God in heaven. She did not do anything to do in the murder or helped in any way, and the Denver confession is untrue."

"GEORGE C. McDONALD."

May Win Woman's New Trial.

Legal authorities believe the statement will result in a new trial for the woman, who, with her husband, is under sentence to be hanged next Friday. Legault, attorney for McDonald, said his client's statement will probably force another trial—and possibly an acquittal—for the former Broadway cabaret girl, and a stay of execution for McDonald, hurried with the paper to Ottawa. He obtained an audience with Ernest La Pointe, minister of Justice of Canada, and laid the new evidence before him.

In the Fulton Street jail, the pretty Doris Palmer, gun girl, thief, forger, and bootlegger, who, when trapped with her husband in Denver, confessed the crime and took full responsibility for it, continued to prepare her spirit for its scheduled flight. Doris was held incommunicado today, on what the province of Quebec planned as her last Sunday alive. Not even her mother, Mrs. Hazel Green of Chicago, or her attorney, R. C. Calder, was allowed to visit her. The only news of her came through the black-robed nuns who minister to her. And "she is feeling well; she has put her trust in God, and she is ready," they said.

EMMERSON TELLS WHAT HE'LL DO FOR COOK COUNTY

Promises Square Deal in Roads and Everything.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Secretary of State Louis L. Emmerson, as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, was in Chicago yesterday telling what he intends to do for Cook county if he is elected. He has been campaigning all over the state with Attorney General Oscar S. Carlstrom, who is seeking re-nomination, and former Senator Otis F. Glenn, candidate for United States senator. They expect to spend the last two weeks of the campaign here.

"I have been asked, 'What are you going to do for Cook county?' and I certainly expect to answer that question," said Mr. Emmerson.

"First, let me say that we people downstate are not in any way opposed to Chicago or Cook county. We are proud of Chicago. It's our wonderful city as well as yours."

"Will Be Chicago's Friend." "The state needs Chicago and Chicago needs the state. Why should there be any talk of unfriendliness between the state's sections. The people of Chicago and Cook county will have a friend in me as governor."

The candidate smiled when he mentioned "roads."

"I'm for roads, hard roads, wide roads, more roads and better roads, as many roads for every county as can possibly be built—and that includes Cook county," he said. "Certainly I favor the widening of all the main arteries into Chicago."

"Home rule? I'm going to say something about that in the campaign. Pledges Aid in Fighting Crime. "There is talk here about crime. I don't think Chicago is a bad city. Far from it. It's a live, healthy, energetic city and, of course, it has its criminals, but there is a place provided for them. We have two penitentiaries and a prison farm or two."

"I propose, as governor, to have a board of pardon and parole that will cooperate in every way with your state's attorney and every other county's state's attorney. It will work with the crime commission of Chicago."

Mention of pardon and parole scandals drew a smile from Emmerson.

"You folks put the criminals in the penitentiary and tell me how long you want them kept there and I'll do my part," he said.

Seeks Square Deal for All. "You know the state executive department has many branches in Chicago. I want to give you an administration of the grain inspection department that will protect you when you buy a loaf of bread, that will protect the baker, the miller, the grain dealer, and give a square deal to the hard working farmer.

UNOCCUPIED MANSION ROBBED OF TRIMMINGS; DAMAGE IS $75,000

New York, March 18.—[Special.]—An unoccupied mansion, once owned by Herbert L. Platt on Clinton street, Brooklyn, has been systematically robbed during the last three months by a group of men, two of whom have been arrested. According to the police, the damage done was anywhere from $75,000 to $100,000. The house had a lot of bronze trimmings, panels, an Italian organ, etc., and the burglars stripped all metals from everything.

"One of the most important offices in Chicago is that of the state department of registration and education," he went on. "It is this board which should see that any person who gets a license to practice medicine is qualified. This board also is charged with the responsibility of examining men and women who aspire to other professions—dentists, druggists, and others."

"I want to put responsible and worthy persons in those important offices. I want you people of Cook county to have the best there is in factory inspection, employment bureau, athletic supervision and every other activity in which the state owes you a duty. You'll get that if I am elected governor."

ENGLISH BISHOPS FINISH REVISION OF PRAYER BOOK

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, March 18.—The house of bishops of the Church of England has completed the final draft of the prayer book revision, which, with the amendments, will be made public tomorrow.

The new revisions include stricter rules for reservation of the sacrament while the question of fasting before communion is left "to the individual's conscience." Other changes relate to prayers for the king. Ministers are given full right to use the old prayer book.

The final draft, as amended, will be submitted to a joint meeting of the convocations of Canterbury and York, and if approved will go before the church assembly April 26 for final sanction. The latter is the last stage before submission of the book again to parliament.

THE SENATE VS. ESCH.

The senate has refused to confirm the nomination of John J. Esch to the interstate commerce commission. The vote was 39 to 29. The roll call was not made public.

Mr. Esch was a member of the house of representatives for 12 years and during much of the time took a leading part in railroad legislation. He has completed one term as a member of the interstate commerce commission. There is no doubt that the senators who voted against him did so because of his vote in the controversy over freight rates from the coal fields to lake ports.

In 1925 Mr. Esch voted against reducing the rates from Pennsylvania and Ohio mines. In 1927 he voted for reducing the rates from these mines 20 cents a ton. About the same time he voted against giving a corresponding reduction from the mines of West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, which would have placed the southern fields again in a position to compete with Ohio and Pennsylvania in great lake territory.

The opposition to Mr. Esch appears to have been sectional. While the roll call of the senate as a whole was not made public, the character of the opposition was clearly defined in the preliminary hearing before the senate committee on interstate commerce.

The interstate commerce commission was created to keep railroad rates and railroad regulation out of politics. The commission was designed to be an impartial, nonsectional, nonpartisan body of experts. Now that he has been unseated the question arises whether Mr. Esch was voted down because his opinions were governed by sectional rather than national considerations, as the senators would have us believe, or because the senate wishes to impose sectionalism upon the commission. Undoubtedly the railroad rate structure can be made to serve one section of the country at the expense of others. Is the senate for or against that use of the commission's powers?

The question is one which the country cannot afford to leave unanswered.

The burden of proof is upon the senate. We are entitled to assume, from many of its recent acts, that it prefers the sectional to the national viewpoint. Let the position taken on radio regulation serve as an example. A radio commission was created, not of five fair minded citizens of the United States, but of one representative from each of five zones into which the country was divided. Efforts were made at this session of congress to make the commissioners amenable to senatorial suggestion by terminating their appointments at the time most favorable for this purpose. In addition, it is now proposed that broadcasting privileges be divided among the states in proportion to population, regardless of variations in demand for radio services. The proposal comes from the house, but it has strong support in the senate. The effect of this kind of legislation is to place both the regulators and the regulated where they must look to senators for help. If commissioners do not conform to the views of the senators in their districts, they cannot hope for reappointment; and if broadcasters or listeners desire anything from the commission, they can best get it by appealing through their senators.

The inclusion of radio in the senatorial patronage list is bad enough, but a similar attempt to control railroad rates can be even more serious. It can lead to dislocation of the industrial life of the country and to inefficient efficiency in national production. It is not Mr. Esch but the senate which is now called upon for an explanation.

THE JOLLY PRINCE

The tradition of the prince of Wales has accumulated a variety of experiences, from that of the Black Prince fighting his own fight at Poitiers to that of the amiable son of George III, achieving the reputation of being the most accomplished blackguard in Europe. It has the jovial figure of bluff Prince Hal and of Edward waiting out his mother's health and constitution to be something more than the First Gentleman of Europe. It has had good little princes and bad big princes, but most of them, even when nothing to describe truthfully to the Sunday school, have managed to command a presence when required. The lady who slipped a piece of ice down the back of the First Gentleman found that the spine she had chilled was royal.

None ever has been better liked or for better reasons than the present prince, but he has a genius for getting out of the purple. He falls off his horse. He loses his pocketbook. He hasn't time to get into the right trousers with the right coat. He is turned up at the bottom when he oughtn't to be. His experiences with his horses prove that he is game. He is the one prince who can get out of the ditch, laugh and have the world laugh with him but not at him. That's an accomplishment of sheer good nature and it requires a brilliant personality.

Royalty in centuries has proved that it can be almost anything and get by. It can be stupid, cruel, stingy, pompous, half witted, crafty, and ill tempered as well as good and wise, but can it be Charlie Chaplin?

FOR THE ATTENTION OF SENATORS SWANSON, GLASS AND BORAH.

Attorney General Fred H. Davis of Florida has given an opinion that Florida law prohibits Negroes from voting in Democratic primaries and that any attempt on their part to participate in such elections must be stopped or punished by criminal prosecution. Mr. Davis responded to a report that there was a plan to register Negroes. This exclusion theory contemplates a party as being a private club. Thus it has the right to choose its own membership and a state may recognize it as a restricted organization. The purpose is to disfranchise Negroes on account of race and color. In a final election they can be kept from voting any ticket by intimidation, poll taxes, intelligence tests or any device the whites choose to adopt. In the average southern community white disapproval of Negro voting is sufficient. It is as effective as a threat.

In any honest conception and administration of primary election law disqualification of a citizen wishing to affiliate with a party and vote in the nomination of its candidates is a disfranchisement. In the Florida case it is denial of the right to vote on account of race and color, an abridgment written in law and enforced by the state.

As guarantees of franchise rights the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments apply to Liberia.

THE DISABLED ENLISTED MAN.

The Tyson bill, providing retirement pay for emergency army officers disabled in the world war, has been passed by the senate. The aim of the bill is to remove a discrimination against this one class of officer, every other of the nine classes of officers in the army, navy, and marine corps having been already provided for with retired pay. Two senators, former officers in the war, attacked the bill, claiming that it discriminated in its turn against the enlisted man, who might be even more seriously disabled yet not receive commensurate pay.

The senators were justified in making such an argument, provided they had the facts. But their argument should serve not to stop the passage of the Tyson bill but to set a movement on foot to investigate the status of the disabled enlisted man. The Tyson bill should become law. The law to right any unfair situation, if it is found to exist, is not to kill the Tyson bill but to give the disabled enlisted man more generous compensation.

UNITY OF COMMAND.

The problem of securing coordination between the two air services is still troubling the high commands of the army and navy. The question of a coordinated air defense was pushed strikingly to the fore at the time, several years ago, of Col. William Mitchell's charges, and the court martial that investigated them. Then Col. Mitchell was forced out of the army; congress granted more liberal appropriations to both air services; and the topic of a unified air service was permitted to drop out of the conversation, at least so far as popular discussion of it was concerned.

Perhaps the latest plans of the war and navy departments will revive it again; for the coming months, it is announced, will see orders issued for maneuvers requiring joint air service action, and the results will be studied by a joint board, which will attempt to define what part each service shall be expected to play in time of war. Any decision reached, however, can be but of the nature of a temporary compromise. For war is above all enterprises the one in which all the eggs must be put in a single basket. As aviation grows in importance it will demand a separate department and room must be made in the cabinet for a secretary of military aviation, and the three departments of the national defense will achieve something approaching unity through equality under the President as commander in chief.

Or perhaps, still more effectively, aviation will be given equal rank with army and navy, while at the same time a reversion is made to Washington's day, when the secretary of war was the only military cabinet post. The three departments would then be placed under a secretary of national defense and unity of command thus achieved.

Editorial of the Day

IN SOUTH TYROL.
[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

The dispute between Mussolini and Austria concerns the Italian administration of South Tyrol, now called by the Italian name of Alto Adige. This province, whose population, language, and culture is preponderantly German, was handed over to Italy when the Hapsburg empire was dissolved. It is now being Italianized. It is said within two years all educational use of the German language will cease. Little Hans and Little Gretchen will be forced to learn a foreign tongue, and there will be that constant clash of a German environment at home and an Italian environment in school. Public signs are already being printed in both languages, Italian propaganda is being broadcast, and every effort is being made consistent with order to de-Germanize the province.

The South Tyrol correspondent of the Manchester Guardian writes: "It is a curious sensation to sit in a country inn of supremely German character, sipping a measure of Johannisberger from a German glass, eating a wiener schnitzel or a frankfurter wurst, while around you blonde and blue eyed peasants in Tyrolean costumes argue in rich South German, puffing at meerschaum pipes, and then to raise your eyes to the photographs of the unassuming Victor Emmanuel and his formidable prime minister, festooned perhaps with red-white-green ribbons and supported by a strip of paper setting forth in superlative Italian the incomparable merits of the monarch and the statesman and the bottomless ingratitude of those who depreciate them. It is a sensation to be experienced anywhere in South Tyrol." It can easily be imagined what a difficult situation it is. The safe thing is going on in other parts of Europe, such as in Czechoslovakia, which contains large Hungarian and German minorities. Those who revised the map of Europe after the war made some terrible blunders, and planted the seeds of future wars. Present conditions point clearly to the desirability, even the necessity, of revising the treaties in the light of common sense and racial integrity.

HIS DESERTS.

A little girl returned from school proudly flourishing a paper.

"It's a composition about Socrates," she said, handing it to her mother with a grand air. "Teacher told us about him and then we wrote it. You can read it if you want to."

And mother read: "Socrates was a great man. He was a sort of tramp. He told everybody what to do and they gave him poison." —Tid Bits.

ANXIETY AND FEAR OVER SYMPTOMS.

An investigation made by Dr. Reginald Pitts indicated that one-third of the persons who consult physicians have no organic disease or other definite disorder. It does not follow that they do not have symptoms and complaints and that these are not real. Nor does it follow that the persons who consult the doctors for symptoms not founded on organic disease made a mistake in doing so. Dr. J. Mayo says that the majority of people who consult him do so on the simplest sort of medical matters. They do not need to be directed to take any medicine. They need only to talk over the symptoms about which they are perplexed and worried and to be reassured. In many instances they need some advice as to their habits. Most of them, after being reassured, are freed from their symptoms. If they are not they are freed of anxiety about them, and that is satisfying.

As matters now are most people fifty years of age and over have a few symptoms. They fall short of perfect health without having any definite disorder. If they are lucky enough to fall into the hands of a physician who will examine them thoroughly, will properly evaluate the symptoms complained of, and, finding nothing of importance, will remove the anxieties and fears, they will find themselves on a good working basis.

I have just finished Ward's "Charles Darwin." I am impressed with this thought: Could Charles Darwin have had Dr. Pitts for his doctor during the last twenty-five years of that naturalist's long life he would have been the gainer and Charles Darwin may have been happier and more comfortable.

The matter of proper weight is very much the public eye. We are having propaganda campaigns, some well financed and some not, to get the public to eat less. Here is about the way Dr. Pitts handles the subject: Men and women attain their full weight at about the age 17. They continue gaining in weight until about 20. After that weight tends to decrease slowly. The period of increase in weight is subdivided into periods of rapid increase and periods of slow increase.

NOT TOO LATE.
Chicago, March 11.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In November, 1927, in an attempt to board a street car, I was thrown to the pavement by the quick movement of the car, receiving an injury to my arm which I thought slight at the time, and did not report it. It has become worse and continues to give trouble. Is it too late to report the accident?

It is not too late if you can prove the facts. We suggest that you attempt to have an attorney undertake collection on a contingent fee.

FREE TRIPS TO EUROPE.

Beverly H. M. [The People's Friend.]—My mother, who is a gold star mother, would like to take advantage of the government's offer to send any gold star mother to France to the grave of a veteran buried over there. To whom must one apply for taking such a trip? What is included in the way of expense?

A. N. M.
The Butler bill to enable gold star mothers to make the pilgrimage of Europe has been passed by the house but not by the senate, and it is uncertain whether or not it will be passed. Hence there is no place to apply at present.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

MARCH 19, 1869.
MEMPHIS.—We have intelligence of the Tazoo Pass expedition to March 14. The fleet consisted of the Chillocoche, Baron De Kalb, five small gunboats, the Mosquito fleet, and eighteen transports. The Chillocoche, three miles in advance, at the town of Greenwood, met a check when the enemy's battery of five large guns opened fire on her. The fight ceased at dark. The Chillocoche received in all sixty-four shots, one of which entered a port hole, killing three and wounding fourteen. At last accounts the fleet was miles above Greenwood and 150 miles from Tazoo City.

WASHINGTON.—Gen. Dix has forwarded here statements from Richmond papers to the effect that on March 15 Admiral Paraguri attacked Port Hudson and after a sharp fight was seriously repulsed, one vessel, the Mississippi, being sunk. The rebels admit, however, that one of our vessels sank the blockade, and it is now between Port Hudson and Vicksburg.

WASHINGTON.—Col. James B. Fry of the regular army, well known in the west as chief of staff to Gen. Buell, has been appointed provost marshal general, completely upsetting the expectations of everybody as to this appointment.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.—Brilliant cavalry raid was made by Gen. Averell on the Rappahannock, beyond Kelly's ford. His command forced a passage over the river in the face of a determined fire of the rebels, then charged them in their entrenchments, killing or capturing nearly the entire force. Among the prisoners is Maj. Breckinridge, a cousin of the traitor John C. Breckinridge.

FORTRESS MONROE.—Richmond papers contain a rumor that the City of Mexico has been captured by the French. Gen. Buford lost $1,900 by having his pocket picked in an oyster saloon.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Startling rumors were rife at the navy department to the effect that the wrecking tug Chief had been sent to Cuba to scout in the waters of the Havana harbor and not for the purpose of assisting in the raising of the Maine. The Chief is a large craft and as the entrance to the harbor is narrow it would be effectively blocked by the sinking of a vessel of its dimensions.

DEAR SENATOR BORAH: We take our typewriter to our lap to inform you that, although we have issued the W. K. Clinton call to the dear public to send contributions to us to forward to you to pay off Harry Sinclair, we regret to report there has been as yet only a very slight response. We are sorry, senator, but in a few days the tide may turn. We have to report up, only two more Canadian dimes, five sticks of chewing gum, and three tickets to the Dempsey-Tunney fight last fall. But hope on, hope ever, senator. We've got every body crying and pretty soon they'll start digging.

WHAT A CLUTCH!

R. H. L.: Yes, it was like this: The taxi driver shifted into high gear and a clatter and crash and roar from beneath the floorboards of the car. "Hell's fire!" he moaned. "What a clutch!" Then a deep bass voice from the back seat piped up. "Say, guy, mind yer own business, will ya?"

R. H. L.: By Golly! The chance of a lifetime! Phil's me in on this double each day for thirty-one days' business. The catch—oh, that probably is that you'll memorize the writing or the stationery and open only one letter of each group. But I'll fool you, I'll use a different typewriter for each contribution (I work in a large office) and different colored paper for each. So—having eliminated the only possible catch, let's go! It takes a woman to solve difficult problems. S. ADELIN.

Dick: Well, the "darned old critics" said just what I knew they would say! They all praised Dennis to the skies! You "scooped" me this morning when you printed the paragraph from Alexander Woolcott's review—for I copied that paragraph last night and meant to send it in to you. But have you read what Percy Hammond said in his review? This is it: "Mr. King, the star, was a vicious D'Artagnan, with the voice of a canary, the grace of a serpent, and the valor of an eagle. From his first entrance upon the back of his shabby Rosinante to when I left him singing a love song to Miss Vivienne Segal (Mme. Bonacieux) at the end of the act, he was steadily humorous, spirited, and D'Artagnan. No disciple of Dumas will resent Mr. King's portrayal of the doughty guardsman, since it is D'Artagnan plus an ability to warble."

Can't you just picture Dennis as D'Artagnan? And how, I ask you, can we ever wait two whole years to see him?

ON THE LONGEVITY OF TOADS.

La Salle, Ill., March 13.—I am inclined to think the Texas people are right about their horned toad. Many years ago, when I was a child, we used to play in a small quarry near our home, especially when the men weren't around at work. On one of these occasions, in clambering over the rocks that had recently been broken out of the side of the quarry, looking for fossils and petrified shells, etc., we heard a peculiar hissing noise. We located the sound as coming from the rock in the side of the quarry—the wall, as it were. We discovered a small hole and began poking sticks into it. It was a really small hole, so we conceived the idea of getting a chisel and enlarging it.

Of course we girls kept at a safe distance, for we thought nothing but a snake could hiss like that. Finally, when the hole had been enlarged, out came the ugliest, blackest looking toad I have ever seen. He was a good sized fellow and had a venomous disposition, and he was promptly dispatched by the small boys. The crypt, or cell, in which he had been was practically round, as I remember it, and polished smoothly. Now, I don't think about toads much, I never before heard of one that hissed, and had practically forgotten this incident until reading of the toad found in the corner store in Texas.

No matter what the scientists may say, this toad had certainly been shut in that living rock for some time. It was the new fall of rock that revealed his cell as it was.

FREE PARKING IN GRANT PARK.

Chicago, March 14.—It might be well for some one to take the south park commissioners for a ride and then end up in the free parking space over at Grant park. Let them wade through the mud and water and see how they feel afterward. The cost of 25 cents for parking, just north of this free parking section, is reasonable enough for one day parkers, but when a person has to pay that amount six days each week it is rather hard on the pocketbook. Surely the south park board can afford to spend a few dollars in getting this place in a usable condition, so that

ADJUSTING MINERS' WAGES.

Chicago, March 13.—The coal operators of Illinois and Indiana want to be put on a competing basis with the operators south of the Ohio river; the miners want to keep their present wages and the government would like to be put out in some way. Why, then, does the government not raise the standard of wages in the nonunion fields to that of the "little scale"? That is considered to exemplify the true American standard of wages. Then both the union and nonunion miners would be satisfied and most of the operators happy. The business would at least be on a competitive basis.

The spirit of the Exposition is the spirit of Chicago.... of progress.... the expression of today. Striking evidences of it are seen in the Apparel Sections, revealing every new mode and phase of modern dress design, and in accessories—such as the new geometric jewelry.... in so large a thing as the great vistas of windows which express with vivid modernism the modes for Spring and Summer against the glory of an abstract garden.... and, even in so small a thing as ribbons which have caught the feeling of new art in their designs. ## DOMINICANS TRY TO BUILD NATION ON U. S. PATTERN

Keep Up Road Work Begun by Marines.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Copyright 1934, By The Chicago Tribune.)

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic, March 18.—Under the supervision of American marines, who have governed Santo Domingo for six years, a provisional government, between 1922 and 1924, set up the permanent government which came into power with the election of Horacio Vasquez, president, and Federico Velazquez, vice president. The American flag was hauled down, the marines sailed away, and the American military occupation was at an end. The only vestige of American guardianship left was the customs receivership, which was here before the marines came.

President Vasquez is a picturesque old man of the people, stout, white haired, with a freckled and bronzed face, and a twinkling eye, a man of little learning, but much wisdom, and an earnest desire to advance his people.

A Former Revolutionist.
President Vasquez, whose management of the country's affairs compares favorably with military occupation, is one of those old revolutionary generals whose insurrectionary activities precipitated the American intervention. Many times he came down from the mountains with an army at his back, overthrew the government, and set up one of his own, but the old man will remind you that he never put himself in power. He is a poor man today, with nothing but his $12,000 presidential salary.

The new government was a coalition of two principal parties, the Horacistas, who took their name from that of the president, and the Federicistas, named for the vice president, as is the custom in many Latin countries, where parties represent not principles, but persons. These two parties had entered into a deal that the Horacistas should have 70 per cent of the offices and the Federicistas 30 per cent.

Row with President.
Not long after they assumed office the president and the vice president fell out. Vice President Velazquez accused the president of grabbing more than his 70 per cent share of offices. The vice president undertook to block the appointment of more Horacistas to office, whereupon the president made a combination with a third party and turned the vice president's benches out of office.

President Vasquez, who came into office in 1924, has two more years to serve under an interpretation of the constitution making his term six years, with ineligibility to reelection. The terms of his successors will be four years. The constitution also was amended to make the vice president ineligible to succeed the president if the latter is removed by death. This change was in the interest of preventing a vice president from attaining the presidency by the assassination route.

Pacified by Marines.
Complete tranquility has reigned ever since the marines pacified the country and created a national police force. This body, consisting of 2,000 officers and enlisted men, is being maintained by President Vasquez's administration in as high a state of training as the Americans left it. The marines disarmed the population and no persons are allowed to possess weapons today without government permits.

The most potent deterrent of insurrection, however, is the system of roads. In addition to 400 miles of macadam highways built by American marines, 325 miles have been completed by the Dominicans since the occupation and 140 miles more are under construction.

Roads Help to Keep Peace.
Before the country had roads a revolution would be gathering force for three or four weeks before the government knew anything about it. Now the national police can be sent to any disaffected part of the country in three or four hours by motor transport. The Dominicans are proud of carrying on road construction on an even greater scale than did the marines. They have retained a number of American engineers for this and other public works.

Young Men in Cabinet.
President Vasquez has chosen his cabinet from all political parties. He has, for the most part, selected young and progressive men for the various posts. From the president down they are animated by a desire to do their job as well as the Americans did, and better if possible. The Americans here are unanimous in asserting that up to date there has been no slipping in the efficient administration.

There are stories afoot, to be sure, that graft has reappeared in the shape of padded pay rolls and excessive payments to political henchmen for contract work.

The Dominican minister of finance, an extremely capable young business man, Martin de Moya, is carrying out a financial program, the realization of which will free the republic of foreign debt in 1942, and thereby automatically terminate the American financial protectorate. The old debt of $20,000,000 which the country owed when the late President Roosevelt took over the customs collections, was paid off last year, and the remaining $5,000,000 of the 1922 and 1924 loans is being paid at a rate that will discharge it completely in 1942. Señor de Moya is amortizing the additional $10,000,000 loan of 1926 for final liquidation in 1942. This latter loan, at 5 1/2 per cent, was obtained by Lee, Higginson & Co. by competitive bid at $7. The bonds now are quoted at par.

The total income of the republic is about $15,000,000, of which $5,800,000 is derived from customs and $5,000,000 from internal revenue. Of the $2,500,000 revenue from the national lottery, $1,000,000 goes to the government and the remainder to hospitals and other welfare institutions. A greater part of the proceeds of the new loan is being expended on roads and other public work.

ROW OVER U. OF C. CLINICS GOES TO STATE SOCIETY

A controversy between the Jackson Park branch of the Chicago Medical Society and the Albert Merritt Billings Memorial hospital on the University of Chicago campus will be referred for action today to the council of the Illinois State Medical society, in conference at the Hotel Stevens.

This was decided at a meeting in the hospital yesterday of a joint committee composed of representatives of the Chicago medical body and of the hospital. This was the outgrowth of a meeting of 300 physicians at which it was charged that the hospital through its clinics and laboratories is treating cases that should go to the private practitioners.

Yesterday's meeting was behind closed doors, and none of the participants later would discuss the points at issue. Dr. F. C. McLean, head of the department of medicine of the hospital, referred all queries to Dr. G. Henry Mundt, who today will confer with the council of the state body.

Liner Reports Her Engines Disabled 500 Miles Out

New York, March 18.—(AP)—The liner Santa Theresa, bound from Valparaiso to New York, was reported "holed" 500 miles off this port today because of disabled engines. The Santa Theresa carries 87 passengers. Officials of the line said radio messages from the ship carried assurance that the passengers were in no danger.

DIRIGIBLE TRAVEL NOW PRACTICAL, EXPERT ASSERTS

LEIPZIG, Germany, March 18.—(AP)—The dirigible was extolled as safe, commercially inexpensive, and fit to ride out storms by Dr. Hugo Eckener in an address before the Leipzig Aeronautical society here last night. The audience included the consuls of the United States, Spain, and Argentina.

Dr. Eckener criticized the tall mooring masts used in America and advocated short masts which would permit the bottom of the dirigible to rest on movable supports, something like the mast used by the United States navy dirigible Los Angeles at Panama. With such equipment, he said, each Zeppelin flight between southern Spain and Argentina would cost $50,000, including only $750 for landing and starting expenses.

Only vertical air blasts are dangerous to a dirigible, he said. These vertical blasts could be overcome, he said, by driving through them at full speed.

He said the Shenandoah disaster occurred because that dirigible flew into a severe thunderstorm at half speed. He said the reduction in the number of gas and air valves on the Shenandoah was a contributing factor, asserting that the outside air pressure of the blasts which forced the ship alternately up and down could not be adequately counter-balanced by valving out gas.

Why so many WALGREEN STORES?

For years past you have seen and heard of the ever growing circle of Walgreen stores and of their splendid daily values.

At the base of this great circle lies the culmination of an idea... an idea of service born 15 years ago when a young and dissatisfied drug merchant decided that his "best opportunity lay in his own job."

From that hour grew an entirely new and better drug store service. Household remedies were made dependable; stocks were systematized and service became synonymous with courtesy, civility and speed. Doubtful products and excessive profits held no place in this program... and the original Walgreen store, distinct from old traditions, developed by leaps and bounds into a network of new ideals.

Today the man, woman or child who shops at Walgreen's finds it just such an institution as they want... a prescription department as dependable as human hands can make it... a fountain service whose products are of the highest quality and purity... intelligent, experienced salespeople... spacious, well lighted salesrooms... attractive displays of endless needs at typical Walgreen savings.

12-PIRATE STORIES-12

Each One Complete in Itself!

ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

With Illustrations by NORMAN PRICE

FIGHTS at sea that thrill you through and through! Grappled ships and grappling men! Exciting duels! Buckets of blood! Hair-raising deeds, such as terrible Black-Beard Teach, his head almost severed from his neck, holding his head on with one hand while he wields his deadly broad-sword with the other!

This and many other blood-chilling exploits in these 12 stories actually happened. Real deeds of real pirates—Black-Beard Teach, Captain Death, Calico Jack Rackham, Francis Sprigg, the brothers Horneygold, Mad Stede Bonnet, lovely Mary Read, Bonnie Anne and many others. They're back to life again in these colorful, enthralling stories—treading the blood-drenched decks of their fearsome ships—plotting and scheming in the half-lighted tap-room of Tom Cocklyn's sinister inn—amazing you with their daring, their cruelty, their thrilling, glamorous adventures on sea and land. Every incident historically true and written in the language of the pirates themselves.

It was under the Rogue's Moon—full and silvery—that the pirates did these deeds and so it is under the general title of "THE ROGUE'S MOON" that Mr. Chambers has written this series of short stories—each complete in itself. They will appear, as follows, exclusively in LIBERTY:

FIGHT TO RETAIN HOUSING LAWS IN NEW YORK

Tenants Fear High Rents if They Are Repealed.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.) New York, March 18.—(Special.)—New York's ever present housing problem again is being threshed out before legislators. The annual discussion of the advisability of once more extending the emergency rent laws which impose a maximum rental of $12.50 a room in Manhattan on antiquated tenements forcibly has demonstrated the acute need for modern sanitary, low rent apartments. If the laws are killed tenants fear high rents will lure all builders from this field.

The real estate men who are fighting the proposed extension of the laws have promised a court fight to throw out the legislation as unconstitutional if it is passed again this year.

Emergency Declared. Rent payers and tenant organizations are demanding passage of the bill, declaring that the conditions of overcrowding and herding together are just as bad today as they were in 1920 when an emergency was declared and the rent laws first made effective.

Representatives of the tenant league insist that if the rent laws are erased the landlords in the tenement district will increase rentals 20 to 30 per cent, forcing occupants of their places to even lower levels. At the same time, they contend, property owners and builders will cease entirely the erection of $10, $12 and $15 a room dwellings and confine their activities to higher price buildings, virtually forcing the low salaried man to go into debt for a place for himself and his family to sleep.

Agnes M. Craig, attorney for the Bronx Council of Tenants' league, headed a delegation of more than 100 rent payers who went to Albany to demand passage of the bill. She said she held no brief for those who could afford to live in high class apartments, but that she spoke only for the working classes.

No Relief for Workers.

"There has been no relief for them," she said. "The condition of overcrowding of families of this class because of the shortage of the proper kind of houses that they can afford to live in is just as bad as it was right after the war. Bad as conditions are now, if the rent laws are not extended, matters will become even worse. Already landlords are threatening tenants with booms in rent as high as 30 per cent. There is a minimum of new building under the restrictions of the rent laws, but there will be virtually no building for the low rent payers if landlords are allowed to charge high prices regardless of location or cost of construction."

On the other hand, the state housing board after months of investigation has declared there is no emergency justifying the continuation of the rent laws as they exist.

"However, the problem of modern sanitary housing at moderate rentals remains," admits Darwin R. James, chairman of the state board. "Owners of low rent property might go in for modern housing on their own if allowed better return. Many families are ready to pay higher rents for more civilized accommodations. The present provisions regulating the organization and operation of limited dividend companies under the law are too rigid and inflexible to promote the greatest activity in rebuilding congested tenement districts. To remedy this situation the board suggests that the law be amended so that the limited 5 per cent return to capital may be adequately safeguarded in event of contingencies arising during construction requiring adjustment of rent structures."

Can't Handle Slum Problem.

Prof. Charles Gray Shaw, national housing authority, says the extension of the emergency rent laws cannot cope with the slum problem.

"The whole question is one of quality rather than quantity," he says. "If one tries to sum up the situation by counting rooms and then counting noses he will gain no idea of what the shortage means as long as he includes a long list given over to rats and roaches. The reason why so many $4 and $5 a room places are vacant is because people cannot live in them. Rebuilding and not merely renting at a low figure is the thing demanded by the present situation. Municipal housing seems to be the only adequate way to cope with the situation."

A demand that the housing board give specific instances to support its finding that there is an abundance of vacant apartments of the cheaper class in Manhattan has been made by Assemblyman Phelps.

Force 1,000 Families to Move.

"In my own district in Manhattan," he says, "there are about 2,000 families who will be compelled to move unless the law is continued. There are thousands in other parts of the city who will face a similar situation. Of course, if there is an abundance of cheap apartments, rents naturally will not rise, but if this is the case, why are landlords so anxious to repeal the rent laws?"

There are more than 525,000 families occupying old law tenements. The present extension of the laws limiting the amount a landlord is allowed to charge expires June 1, 1928. The emergency laws were inaugurated in February, 1920, to meet the crisis in housing brought about by conditions arising immediately after the war.

The state board, in its investigation, found that 193,000 families, or 560,000 persons, would be affected by any change in the legislation. Sixteen bills now are pending in the legislature. Rent legislation has jumped into the forefront of all remaining bills before the legislature in its final days and politics noticeably has begun to seep into the question. Democratic leaders in both houses openly have assailed the housing board and they have been joined by most of the New York city Republicans. What Gov. Smith will do, he has not definitely stated. But if the measure should eventually land on his desk he is expected to approach it with an open mind.

SEEN 100 IN RAID.

Chief James L. Devorex of the county highway police led two squads in a raid on Manhattan's roadhouse, near the New York river bridge, Leimont, while several cock fights were in progress yesterday afternoon. Ed ward, the proprietor, and 100 patrons were taken into custody.

ORIENTAL RUGS

The Charm of Their Art for the Home

Oriental Rugs have a definite place in the Art of the World. A possessor of a fine Oriental Rug may regard it as he would a painting by one of the old masters—as indeed it is.

The Oriental has used secret dyes with fine silks and wools in place of oils and canvas. But he has used the same beautiful colors and the same superb technique to tell his story. He has shown the same mastery of color and line harmony. His interpretations of Nature are delicate and true.

Though the creation of his rugs requires more patience and wearying toil, like every true artist, the Oriental weaver thinks only of the final result.

In the Pushman collection there are many beautiful rugs whose soft, time-mellowed hues remind one of the old Dutch paintings—some whose brilliant colors rival the colors of Titian—many whose bizarre designs and colors parallel those of modern painters. There are rugs with soft Monet blues and vivid Titian reds, and soft shadings worthy of Rembrandt; rugs with Raphael richness and Whistler subtleness—all masterpieces from the hand-loom of the Far East.

You are cordially invited to visit this interesting and colorful collection of Oriental Rugs, which is recognized as one of the finest in America.

OUR SERVICE DEPT. was established primarily to care for Rugs bought in this store. It is in charge of men highly skilled in the cleaning and repairing of Oriental Rugs. They know how to retain and restore the life and brilliance of Oriental dyes and preserve the Rug itself.

SUBMARINE S-4 BERTHED IN NAVY YARD AT BOSTON

Eight Bodies to Be Taken Out Tonight.

Boston, Mass., March 18.—(AP)—The raised submarine S-4 was towed today to a berth at the Boston navy yard today just ahead of a vicious northeaster which caused great danger to shipping in Massachusetts bay.

Tonight the submarine, brought up from the bottom of the sea off Provincetown after three months of struggle, was carried in her six pontoons of drydock at the navy yard.

Run Into Choppy Sea.
The S-4 arrived almost on the schedule planned by Capt. Ernest J. King and Commander Harold S. Saunders. Their towing plans were followed until the submarine and tugs ran into a choppy sea and it was necessary to reduce speed.

After the S-4 is dry docked tomorrow the water will be run out and the hatches opened to admit Lieutenant Commander George B. Dowling and his navy surgeons to locate the eight bodies which still remain in the vessel. They will search for letters or messages which may have been left by Lieut. Graham Newell Fitch of Washington, D. C., and his five comrades who were imprisoned alive for many hours.

Naval Guard of Honor.
Following inspection by the navy board, a naval guard of honor will be posted on the S-4 to stand watch until nightfall, when the eight bodies will be removed. They will be removed after dark to prevent the photographing of the bodies.

SEEKS U. S. VOTE ON WHISKY AT 90 CENTS QUART

Sabath Wants Federal Dispensaries.

Washington, D. C., March 18.—(Special.)—Advocates of a modification of the 18th amendment which would permit the establishment of a federal dispensary plan for the sale of intoxicants intend to present arguments on behalf of their scheme before a house judiciary subcommittee this week.

The plan is embodied in a resolution proposing a constitutional amendment introduced in the house by Representative Sabath (Dem., Ill.). Dr. F. W. Buck, executive secretary of the Federal Dispensary-Tax Reduction League, Inc., with headquarters in this city, is rounding up witnesses in behalf of the proposal. A hearing has been arranged for Friday.

The proposed constitutional amendment would prohibit the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquor except under the federal dispensary plan. The amendment would authorize the enactment of legislation providing for the manufacture, transportation and sale of liquor in packages under a system of governmental permits and restriction in such states as authorize the establishment of dispensaries. In these dispensaries it is proposed that persons of voting age may secure for home use not to exceed two quarts of spirituous liquor, fifteen of wine and thirty of beer a month at 100 per cent above cost with the revenue equally divided between the state and the federal government.

The scheme contemplates that penalties would be provided in the case of breaking of a seal anywhere except in the residence of the purchaser. "Every safeguard will be provided to make this law a real temperance law," said Dr. Buck. "Revenue under the plan will approximate $1,117,000,000 annually."

"It is estimated that the retail price of liquor would be 90 cents a quart for spirits, 50 cents for wine and 20 cents for beer. The proponents of this legislation contend that no one will purchase liquor of unknown quality from bootleggers at any price when they can purchase liquor guaranteed by government test as to age and purity at these prices."

The 5 Great Hazards

"It has been in this house fifty years. You can't find another piece like it. This, ladies and gentlemen, is genuine! What am I offered for it? These old treasures are going for a song. Give me a bid."

—As the auctioneer rattles on, the neighbors think of the old days of entertainment and open hospitality in that house. They wonder how long the proud and lonely mistress has been fighting off the inevitable.

WHILE presenting our Annual Statement showing Assets of $2,388,647,636—2 Billion, 388 Million Dollars—representing savings and investments of 25 million people in the United States and Canada, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company desires to make clear what a life insurance company can do, what it should do and what, so far, it has been unable to do toward meeting what have been called the five great hazards of life:

Death
which may come early, before one's dependents have been provided for.

Accident
always sudden and often causing lessened earning power.

Sickness
which may cause want as well as suffering.

Dependent Old Age
which must seek charity if self-support is no longer possible.

Unemployment
which may bring distress to others in addition to the one unemployed.

Annuities for old age, protection in case of death, accident or sickness—almost every financial requirement can now be met by insurance. Only one

Never Wed Princess Again, Russian Kin of Kaiser Says

BY MARC SOMERS.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

BRUSSELS, March 18.—"If I ever marry a second time I surely never again will marry a princess—too much bother and publicity," Alexander Subkoff, husband of Princess Victoria Schaumburg-Lippe, and brother-in-law of former Kaiser Wilhelm confided today.

Alleging all reports of his separation were untrue and that he really is a good boy, devoted to his imperial wife, the young Russian said:
"I am a toy in the hands of the German political parties. Republicans wishing to disgrace the imperial family tell the wildest stories about me, while the imperialists want to drive me from Germany because I am not a royal match."

Expects Wife to Visit Him.
"I came here with the wife of my German friend, Herr Niessens. The wife, Alice, who was born a Belgian, acted as my guide. My wife is coming to see me before I leave for the Congo, where I am going to start a couple of months. But I am coming back to my wife, and then we may both go to the United States. She wants to leave Germany and loves the English speaking countries."

M. Subkoff is a tall handsome fellow, with brown eyes, dressed well and wears a gold bracelet and pearl tiepin. He is traveling on a Swedish passport as a Russian refugee having a Swedish mother.

"The only thing that might keep my wife tied in Germany is her annuity of 50,000 marks (about $12,500)," he continued. "I want to support her. I have been offered film contracts and may also write my memoirs. I have many talents, play the bal-lala, sing Russian folk songs, and am good at tennis and hunting. I met my wife while playing tennis a year ago. I certainly never expected to marry a princess that day for I had to borrow a pair of flannel trousers to play in. I was so poor."

"After escaping from a soviet prison, I strolled about Europe, making a living as a sailor, a guide for tourists at Marseilles, and selling hot cakes in the streets of Berlin, where I spent many nights on benches in the parks. I had adventures everywhere, and met swarms of girls, all whom called me a second Casanova."

Liable to Fall in Love.
"My wife does not mind my past. She knows even now that I am liable to fall in love with a younger woman and will allow anything provided I keep out of the newspapers. The princess is a perfect pal, has the spirit of a girl of 15, and is wonderfully athletic for her age. She was unhappy in her first marriage with Prince Schaumburg-Lippe, whom Blomberg forced her to wed. She originally intended to wed Prince Battenburg, who later became Lord Mountbatten."

M. Subkoff admitted the princess was supplying him with money, adding that he had repaid 5,000 marks (about $1,250) in old debts since his marriage. He plans to sail for Cape Town March 29, then will go to Elizabethville, Congo, where a Swedish uncle owns a farm.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 20 years of study. Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects. They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of bottles sold yearly. 10c, 25c, 50c. All druggists.

THE GUMPS—RIGHT IS RIGHT

ST. Augustine, Fla., March 18.—(AP.)—Walter Johnson, speed king of baseball, may never pitch again.

The former star hurler of the Washington Senators, who now is manager of the Baltimore Orioles, was hospitalized, left here tonight for Jacksonville to consult a diagnostician about infection of the kidneys which followed a severe attack of influenza this winter.

Johnson was pale, and his hands under weight. He has been unable to take part in directing the training of the Newark club. He had hoped to return to pitching for the club, but his condition at present indicates that he cannot work out with the club, and it is possible that his baseball career is ended.

The New York Times.

New York, March 18.—[Special].—The beginning of a new week with nation wide speculation for the rise at a climax of excitement always is attended with great interest and curiosity.

Participants will have had their ideas and expectations so far expanded that they look for achievements far surpassing anything that has yet occurred. Skeptics will wonder whether a new and altered phase is yet to be expected. Usually the prediction of neither is of any value.

More Cash for Speculation.

Opinion undoubtedly has leaned to the explanation that this has been a pure inflation market; that the abnormally great facilities of credit may, in fact, have covered all the more abundant on stock speculation, because there has been no unusual request for them in general trade. But this very fact emphasizes the unusual character of the resultant stock exchange performance.

A prodigious rise in stocks because of currency inflation is as logical as the rise of the prices of commodities. The advance of German industrial company shares to utterly fantastic prices in 1923 followed an even wider increase in prices of manufactured goods and company profits measured in the depreciated mark.

Annual dividends rose from 5 or 10 per cent on nominal corporation capital to 25 per cent or higher, yet still were smaller in purchasing power than the dividends two or three years before.

When Values Jump About.

It was general readjustment to the new and rapidly changing yardstick of value. Obviously nothing of the kind has happened during the recent rise of American stocks. Earnings of some companies have increased largely. Earnings of others have decreased. Prices of the goods produced by them have fallen rather than risen. But the fact that, for causes wholly unconnected with the currency, profits of certain corporations have increased in a striking way has stimulated belief that other incorporated industries must be in a similar position.

Money can be borrowed on stock collateral so cheaply that a rise in share prices so great as to cut the net yield to a small percentage still will nearly or quite cover the cost of a broker's loan.

Risks Quickly Increase.

When speculation, even in only about 20 stocks, reaches the point of frenzy under such influences it necessarily has become precarious, because it is no longer reflecting intrinsic values in the customary manner and because its maintenance depends on a confessedly abnormal state of credit. It is hardly to be wondered at that such a stock market does not, as a normal market would, advance on expectation of increasing trade activity and decline on expectation of trade reaction.

Decreased production, distribution, and consumption would reduce still further the regulations of merchants and manufacturers on the already superfluous credit fund; increase would possibly pull away from the speculative market part of the credit which had been used to put up stocks.

The situation does not resemble that

TOPICS OF FINANCE TRADE AND INDUSTRY

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Intercontinental Rubber company reports net profit of $450,000 for 1927, after all charges, equal to $1.11 a share. Operating profits were $599,700. A new brand of guayule rubber was placed on the market during the year, which sold at a premium over the older brands. No change has been made in the company's program of gradually expanding guayule planting in California, about 1,800 acres having been transplanted in February, 1928. Automobile tires made from California grown rubber alone have been satisfactorily tested, the report said.

Spring expansion of business is well under way and bids fair to last longer than it did last season, with large aggregate volume for the first half year, says the National Bank of Commerce in New York, reviewing current market conditions. "The pronounced change of sentiment from uncertainty and even pessimism, to a definitely confident outlook which occurred during the first half of March, is the result of general recognition of the intrinsically sound position of a large number of industries which have not heretofore failed to serve as accurate measures of what lies ahead," the review reads.

A new issue of $40,000,000 United Drug company 5 per cent gold bonds has been disposed of through the exchange by holders of first preferred stock into bonds and through sales by the underwriting banking syndicate.

A new South American credit will be marketed today for the state of Minas Gerais, Brazil, by a syndicate headed by the National City company, consisting of $5,500,000 of 6 1/2 per cent external sinking fund gold bonds at 97 1/2 and interest, to yield 6.69 per cent. Part of the proceeds of the loan will be used to redeem the bond issues now outstanding in France.

Net income of America corporation for 1927 declined to $1,706,715 from $4,321,023 in 1926, but gross operating income rose to $17,311,117 from $14,746,502. Earnings were equal to $4.02 a share, against $6.05 the year before. Although net profits were lower, almost every other item of the corporation's activities, including production of oil, gas, natural gasoline, oil in storage, wells producing, reserve, leaseholds and working capital, showed a sizable increase, E. L. De Golyer, president, reported.

Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Field, Glore & Co. have bought the issue of convertible preferred stock and a common stock interest in Barker Brothers corporation, a holding company formed to acquire all the common stock of Barker Brothers, Inc., which operates a retail store in Los Angeles and manufactures much of its merchandise. Its business last year exceeded $16,000,000.

of 1919, or even of such bygone periods as 1902. On those occasions speculation was running wild in trade as well as on the stock exchange and merchants were competing with brokers for the available bank facilities.

Gees Largely by Paradox.
By a curious kind of paradox the very fact of conservative practices in the business community of today has encouraged reckless practices on the stock market. But the resultant situation inevitably takes on an aspect of unreality, which can be dispelled only if and when it is established that lower prices and diminished use of capital by industry as a whole will effect continuously larger dividends to shareholders in producing corporations.

Amerada Copper's Report Shows Increased Earnings

The annual report of the Amerada Copper company, issued last night, shows net income of $2,704,715 for 1927, equivalent to $4.02 a share on 922,075 shares of capital stock outstanding at the end of the year. Net income for 1926 was $4,923,152, or $6.65 a share on 814,000 shares. Gross income last year was $17,311,117, compared with $14,746,502 in 1926, but operating expenses and charges were considerably larger.

The balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1927, shows current assets of $6,074,899 and current liabilities of $1,785,767. Surplus is $4,686,797 after adjustments of $2-1/2 per share for drilling costs and taxes in prior years. Surplus at the end of 1926 was $6,992,420.

LITTLE DRAMAS IN THE LIFE OF A GREAT NEWSPAPER SYSTEM

A noisy street car disturbed his sleep so he telephoned "Mr. Fixit"

A crosstown car line, in an Ohio city, ran one rickety old car with a flat wheel which bumped and squealed. Housewives said it got on their nerves. A minister was so much bothered that he couldn't prepare his sermons. Finally, a man whose nocturnal rest was being disturbed, telephoned to "Mr. Fixit" of the city's SCRIPPS-HOWARD Newspaper, and complained of the noisy nuisance.

"Mr. Fixit" got busy with the officials of the traction company... A new and silent wheel replaced the old one. And so the neighborhood quiet was immediately restored. "Mr. Fixit," or some one like him, is on the staff of every SCRIPPS-HOWARD Newspaper. His business is to help abate the minor irritations in the city's life. His ear is ever attuned to any citizen's complaint if it concerns some shortcoming in the city's streets or service.

If the branches of an elm extend over the sidewalk and brush pedestrians' faces... if a crack in a pavement imperils safe walking... if a manhole cover seems about to break... if there's any one of a thousand civic annoyances that Mr. Citizen wishes to remedy, without knowing how to go about it, "Mr. Fixit" is the man to consult. If action is to be had, he will get it.

In most cities, life is so complex that the average person has little idea where to go to get things done... The newspaper that befriends him in the problems that arise daily is, in turn, sure to win and hold his friendship and confidence... His heart-deep confidence... which in the SCRIPPS-HOWARD Newspapers extends to the advertising as well as to the editorial column!

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION
Southern Illinois
Railway and Power Co.

First Mortgage Gold Bonds
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to all holders of outstanding First Mortgage Gold Bonds of SOUTHERN ILLINOIS RAILWAY CO., a corporation organized under the laws of Illinois, (hereinafter referred to as the "Company"), issued under and secured by the indenture of mortgage dated January 1, 1912, and dated January 1, 1912, and the indenture supplemental thereto dated July 1, 1913, both executed by said Southern Illinois Railway Co. as mortgagor, to the Dearborn Trust and Savings Bank, as Trustee (Continental National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago being now the successor of said Dearborn Trust and Savings Bank), said bonds being those dated October 1, 1912, and maturing October 1, 1942, that pursuant to the terms of said mortgage and said bonds the Company has elected to redeem and pay on April 1, 1942, all said described bonds outstanding under said mortgage and supplemental indenture at the office of Continental National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago, in the City of Chicago, Illinois, at the principal interest to said date, together with a premium of five per centum (5%) upon the principal thereof, and all accrued interest thereon and payable on said date as said office. Interest upon each of said bonds will cease from and after April 1, 1942, and all unaccrued interest on coupons maturing on or after said date, should on that date be presented and surrendered at said office for redemption as above.

Any of the above bonds, with all unaccrued coupons attached, will be accepted and prepaid at said office of the Trust Company of Chicago for redemption date at 107 and accrued interest to the date of redemption, less discount at the rate of four per centum per annum from date of payment to April 1, 1942.
